

Join New York State Public Health Corps (NYSPHC) Today

We are seeking public health professionals to serve in NYS communities

Fellows will be mobilized across NYS to support community outbreak response, infection prevention and control, and other public health priorities in your community.

Fellows will work with local health departments and community partners to bolster NY's public health infrastructure, continue the fight against COVID-19, and prepare for future public health crises.

Contact your regional fellowship placement coordinator for more information.
